Dear Customers,

With mandatory stay-at-home and lockdown orders progressing across the nation, many customers are asking if we are still open. The answer is: Yes, we are!

DynaQuip Controls Corporation serves many customers across North America that are in necessary and essential industries. We supply key components and equipment to businesses in food & beverage, pharmaceutical, transportation, oil & gas, medical equipment, power generation, and water treatment and delivery. We are here for you.

We continue to closely monitor the situation here in Missouri and are following the CDC and Department of Health guidelines to keep employees and customers protected from the transmission of the COVID-19 virus. Our personnel are practicing “social distancing” and other cleanliness and precautionary measures to make sure that sales orders are processed and shipped in a manner that does not compromise anyone’s health and safety.

Our customer service team is taking orders via phone (call 800-545-3636) & email (info@dynaquip.com). We will fill your orders as quickly as we can. We are also readily available your product design and application support needs and stand ready to respond to any urgent shipping needs.

Stay safe, be vigilant, and be well.

Thank you for your patronage,

The Team at DynaQuip Controls
